Vietnam

Vietnam, a land of diverse natural beauty and charm, is now considered one of Southeast Asia's most exciting travel destinations. After enduring wars for much the last century, the country is now a hotspot for culinary aficionados, beach lovers and those with a deep interest in culture, and in spite of rapid economic growth, the country has managed to retain its old-style feel. The political and cultural capital, Hanoi, is known for its centuries-old architecture, Saigon is the country's vibrant and bustling economic centre in the south, and in between there are beautiful beaches in Nha Trang and Da nang, the old untouched cultural towns of Hue and Hoi An, and the beautiful landscapes of Phu Quoc, Halong Bay, Dalat and Sapa.

Laos

Laos is a landlocked country located in the centre of Southeast Asia, known for its rich natural resources and picturesque landscape. Despite its landlocked geography, the country plays a crucial role in the regional trading network which has led to a great deal of cultural diversity. Laos is one of the oldest countries in Southeast Asia, dating back to the 14th Century, which led to many unique cultural tourist attractions throughout the country, including the historical Luang Prabang, its vibrant capital Vientiane, and Champasack - all of which boast beautiful temples, historical archaeological sites and unique cuisine. Furthermore, Laos offers travellers the possibility to appreciate the abundance of nature, with beautiful landscapes of mountains and rivers.

Diverse Destinations

Hanoi

Vietnam's ancient capital of Hanoi, located on the banks of the Red River, is rich with history and wonder and the perfect place for travellers to find well-preserved colonial buildings, ancient pagodas, and unique museums. The city is famed for its varied cuisine, vibrant nightlife, silks and handicrafts. The area of Hoan Kiem Lake in Hanoi's exotic Old Quarter is one of the most visited sights in the city. Steeped in history and pulsating with life, the Old Quarter is Hanoi's historic heart with its precious architectural heritage that perfectly encapsulates Vietnamese culture.

Da Nang

Danang, located on the central eastern coast of Vietnam, is an enchanting one-of-a-kind destination where natural beauty, vibrant Vietnamese culture and fascinating history share the spotlight with historic monuments, ancient ruins, beautiful beaches and the dazzling biodiversity of the Son Tra Nature Reserve, home of the rare red-shanked douc langurs. One of the most dynamic cities in a country typified by rapid economic growth in recent years, it is also the perfect city from which to take day tours to some of the most famed historical and cultural sites in Vietnam, including the UNESCO World Heritage towns of Hue and Hoi An Ancient Town.

Nha Trang

The capital of Khanh Hoa province on Vietnam's eastern coast, Nha Trang offers a diverse range of experiences for both first time and seasoned travellers. Abounding with natural beauty in its dramatic landscape, where mountains practically meet the ocean, Nha Trang combines its rich Vietnamese culture with modern day facilities and boasts 300 days of sunshine a year. Surrounded by low, sweeping mountains on one side and the unspoiled bay on the other, there are endless opportunities for exploration and discovery, such as uninhabited islands, natural mud baths and historic temples.

Saigon

A city both alive with the spirit of the future, yet steeped in tradition, Ho Chi Minh City, fondly called Saigon, is a thriving metropolis of innovation. As visitors explore the busy streets and wind the city's alleyways, an endless array of activities is available, from cultural and historical museums to international restaurants and entertainment hot spots. Modern skyscrapers stand next to French restored colonial mansions, creating a truly unique backdrop. A true city on the rise, Saigon's buzzing excitement and sleepless energy is ready to sweep away both holiday makers and business travellers alike.

Phu Quoc

Phu Quoc, Vietnam's largest island, blends a beautiful natural landscape with rustic charms of local village life. Recognized by UNESCO as a World Biosphere Reserve, more than half of the island is covered by a National Park with evergreen forest, while the surrounding sea boasts a rich marine life and vibrant coral reefs. The island is also famous for the production of high quality fish sauce and peppers, as well as pearl farming. Tours are available to give visitors a unique insight into the cultivation and production of these cultural products. Phu Quoc is due to become a Special Economic Zone, and holders of foreign passports are now eligible for a 30-day visa exemption when entering and leaving Vietnam via Phu Quoc.

Vientiane

Vientiane is the capital and largest city of Laos, located along a curve of the Mekong riverside. As the capital since the 16th century, Vientiane is the political and economic heartland of the country. As one of the most long-standing cities in Southeast Asia, Vientiane has been influenced by both eastern and western civilization, with a blend of French-designed mansions, ancient Buddhist temples and delicate shrines such as That Luang, known as the Golden Stupa, Wat Hor Phra Kaew and Wat Si Sa Ket which feature antique Buddha statues and many historical artifacts.
